Finding Balance & Bounty at a Comprehensive University

July 15 – 20
2018

Week-long workshop designed to provide practical training and sharpen skills for those aiming to find faculty positions in the near future: ADVANCED DOCTORAL STUDENTS and POST-DOCTORAL SCHOLARS.

- Experience best practices in effective teaching and the best ways to combine research with teaching
- Participate in small group sessions and one-on-one meetings with your chosen mentor
- Engage in active workshops to improve teaching skills, research job talk, student mentoring

High Impact Practice (HIP) Bootcamp
Learn about and practice

- High Impact Practices for teaching in STEM
- Meaningful assignments and evaluations
- Balancing teaching and research at a Comprehensive University
- Grant getting at a Comprehensive University
- Preparing for an interview
- Work-life balance and more

Email us to receive an application: csm@csufresno.edu or CLICK HERE to submit your name for an application

REGISTRATION FORM COMING SOON

TRAVEL, FOOD, AND LODGING PAID; $500 STIPEND FOR THE WEEK

MAXIMUM OF 30 PARTICIPANTS

Funding by a grant from the California State University Chancellor’s Office, with the aim of enhancing faculty preparedness and faculty diversity. We particularly encourage groups under-represented in STEM to apply.

Hosted by:
FRESNO STATE
College of Science and Mathematics